FIGURES OF SPEECH

1. Simile	It is a Latin word that means "like". In simile two things or actions are interlinked.	She is beautiful like a rose .
2. Metaphor	The metaphor is an implied comparison without the use of any comparative word.	He is a shining star .
3. Personification	It is called a visible representation of something abstract (as a quality)	The fog comes on little cat feet (Sandburg)
4. Apostrophe	An apostrophe is the address of a usually absent person or a usually personified thing rhetorically.	We voted for higher teachers' salaries.
5. Hyperbole	It is a figure of speech in which exaggeration of words is made on a statement in order to create impressiveness.	You are beautiful than rainbow colors .
6. Euphemism	By using a euphemism, we speak in a softened and milder form to give the expression of unpleasant thing.	He told us a cock and bull story . (a lie) Adam is very plain. (ugly)
7. Parable	It is a short fictitious story that illustrates a moral attitude or a religious principle.	"In some ways, his life is a parable of the corrupting effect of great wealth, for he always assumed that everyone was after his money and out to cheat him."
8. Fable	It is a legendary story that tells about the happenings of something supernatural. In the fable, animals speak and act like human beings.	The well-known fable of tortoise and hare teaches the lesson, 'Slow and steady wins the race'.
9. Antithesis	The rhetorical contrast of idea by means of parallel arrangements of words, clauses or sentences.	• United we stand, divided we fall. • A bird in hand is worth two in the bush.
10. Epigram	It is closely related to antithesis. It is used in apparently contradicting words and indicates some important hidden meaning.	Benjamin Franklin's famous epigram, "Remember that time is money" "The child is the father of man"
11. Irony	It is a figure of speech that is used to express something other than and especially the opposite of the literal meaning.	While describing her vacation with heavy irony as "an educational experience".
12. Oxymoron	It is a figure of speech in which two contradictory or incongruous words are combined together in order to create an effect. Such as cruel, kindness.	Suddenly the room filled with a defeating silence .
13. Paradox	It is a statement that is seemingly contradictory or opposed to common sense and yet is perhaps true.	He loves being in the public eye but also deeply values and protects his privacy.
14. Pun	Pun is, usually, use of a word in such a way as to suggest two or more of its meanings or the meaning of another word similar in sound.	She's a skillful pilot whose career has really taken off.
15. Metonymy	Consists of the use of the name of one thing for that of another of which it is an attribute or with which it is associated.	He is fond of red-tape. (red-tape stands for official routine)
16. Synecdoche	It is a figure of speech in which a part is used for a whole or the whole is used for the part.	Part is used for the whole She had been sixteen summers. (years) Whole for a part example The loach's moisture of the melting year. (summer)
17. Climax	A figure of speech in which a series of phrases or sentences is arranged in ascending order of rhetorical forcefulness.	At the novel's climax, the main character finds herself face to face with the thief.
18. Onomatopoeia	The naming of a thing or action by a vocal imitation of the sound associated with it (such as buzz and hiss).	Shh! No talking in the library please. Ding Dong there was someone at the door.
19. Alliteration	Alliteration happens when words that starts with the same sound are used repeatedly in a phrase or a sentence.	Sheep should sleep in a shed. The boy buzzed around as busy as a bee.
20. Identical Statement	This figure of speech is an indirect mode of describing the fact that is not appearing on the surface.	Fact is fact. I am what I am.
21. Periphrases	It is a use of longer phrasing in place of possible shorter form of expression.	His prominent feature (his nose) was like an eagle's beak.
22. Assonance	The resemblance of sound in words or syllables is called assonance. It is relatively close juxtaposition of similar sounds, especially of vowels.	Rise high in the bright sky. Men sell wedding bells.
23. Anticlimax	This is a figure of speech that is opposite to climax. It is a descent from upward to downward, from the sublime to ridiculous.	We've also born with scars. From the moment we open our eyes and look at the world we are sounded, and we all share the same mark.
24. Innuendo or Insinuation	Instead of plainly stating the thing when it is implied, the effect is sometimes much different.	Shakespeare's Venus contains an example of innuendo. "Even as the sun with purple-colored face had to'en his last leave of the weeping moon."
25. Play upon words	In this figure speech, we use the same word in different shades of meaning within the same sentence.	I'm glad I know sign language. It's pretty handy. You use your hands to sign. And handy means "helpful" or "useful".
26. Exclamation	It is a figure of speech in which strong expression or feeling is used to draw greater attention to a point than a mere bald statement of it could do.	What a piece of work! How beautiful Helen of Troy was!
27. Interrogation	It is rhetorical mean to ask a question, not for the sake of getting an answer, but put point for creating a profound effect.	Are you mad? Are you ashamed of your failure?

So many children in the foster foster fall through the cracks. So, here's the guide for entrepreneurs to update their interview skills. Your business works before entering the interview, keep a list of questions that focus on the role of the job to better secure the candidate. They leave it to their HR team to do the talking with potential employees and save time for the entrepreneur. However, I can say that I would be able to hit the ground running and, as I did for my previous employer, provide immediate results for you. The best responses demonstrate your understanding of key communication skills such as active listening, clear articulation, trust and empathy.be aware of your body language, and use your expressions and tone of voice to build a friendly but respectful relationship with your interviewer. Build self-confidence before your interview by practicing answering questions in advance, ideally with the help of a friend or family member willing to play the role of your interviewer. Listening is one of the most important communication skills. Do you work well with other people? Tell me about yourself. You want to describe yourself? How should your colleagues describe your personality? What main challenges and problems have you faced? This is not a good idea, it ~ Àdiitya Narayan Mishra - director and CEO of Ciel HRwhile on the other hand, it is also important to communicate the opportunity boost during the interview to potential candidates between the levels in the organization. à ~ ÀThe opportunity boost normally covers the one-voice problem that the company intends to solve through the offer (product or service). So, while burning or investing in these resources, every move should be given a second thought. How articulate are you? Is listen carefully to what the interviewers saying, or interrupt and try to dominate the conversation? When interviewers make their questions, they do it not only to get information from you, but to see exactly how to communicate through the verbal tone and the non-verbal expression. I hope to be able to identify these high-risk children and put them in contact with the resources they need not only to survive, but also to prosper. Considering the boring process of recruitment from obtaining the right candidacy to obtain he / she / on board, none of us would like to regret having an inadequate talent on board. Some accidents cannot be avoided, what at least as founder of the € .™ Company you can do is take some precautions at the preliminary level. Watch your interviewers in your eyes when you talk to them? I also learned the importance not only to be able to drive, but also to know when I need to follow. Part of being a good communicator is knowing how to use body language. Here are some sample answers to various interview questions about your communication abilities. It is therefore extremely important to communicate the brand's mission along with your vision of the role.It is important to provide a realistic preview of the work to each candidate. These will help keep all your prejudices about the bay and rationally judge the interviewee.Also, Kapil Gupta, CEO, Shella Consultants says just as you are looking for eye contact and the right suit, the candidate is looking for those unspoken signals from you. Be sure to listen carefully to each question before answering, so that your answer corresponds to what you were asked. What happened?Do you prefer to work independently or in a team?Give some examples of your teamwork in carrying out a critical project.Why are you the right person for this job?Why do you want to work here?What contribution can you make to this company? Your answers will help to show the interviewer your communication skills.Don't exaggerate it. Well, I don't know the other people you're interviewing, so I can't say I'm your "best" candidate. How do you explain your answers? Good communication sometimes means saying less rather than more. Practice interviewing a friend or family member, or even alone in front of a mirror. Job interviews are two-way conversations. As you create and practice your answers to these questions, remember that your expression, eye contact, and tone of voice are as important as the answers themselves.
